The Nkuku and Company Story

Our story began in 2017, when proprietor Zuzile Nkuku, was admitted as an attorney of the High Court of South Africa. He subsequently established a legal consultancy named Tribute Consulting (Pty) Ltd to provide business legal advice and secretariat service to small business in KwaZulu-Natal. Nkuku and Company was officially registered by the Legal Practice Council of the KwaZulu-Natal region under membership number 18116 in 2019. Initially, the firm served the general public and practiced in the areas of commercial law, family law and criminal law. As part of the growth strategy and with the advent of COVID-19, the firm re-positioned its value offering and services to focus, in the main, on SMME customers and their legal and business needs.

Values, Vision and Mission

Values: SPIRIT | EFFECTIVENESS | WISDOM

Vision: The national go-to partner for the development of SMME success.

Mission: Become the dream team of colourful professionals that, build small to big business.

Our Services

We believe in the spirit, effect and wisdom of utmost professional conduct and reflect this when delivering the secretariat, dispute management and access to markets services on offer.

We take special care to treat our clients' documents as sacred and place ourselves in their shoes in assessing the disputes they face. This, along with extensive small business exposure, enable us to identify, plan and implement those measures that organize, secure and elevate our clients' businesses.

Revenue Platforms

Over and above our ability to serve clients face-to-face and from the convenience of their workplaces, we have an online presence that delivers among others: virtual and physical consultation booking; full bouquet of information on the service we offer and related links, standard legal contract templates that can be tailored and downloaded, legal education through video streaming and a portal to enfranchise unregistered small businesses.

Human Resources strategy

Nkuku and Company is a Sole Proprietor with 1 Principal attorney. The firm's team leader currently conducts all governance, compliance, litigation and negotiation service. Support services such as service of court processes and High court litigation are presently outsourced. Because we are a boutique corporate law firm and believe in nurturing our own talent, we envisage expanding the team with 2 legal interns that, are to grow from articles of clerkship into our conveyancing and litigation departments by July 2022.

Identity and brand

Nkuku and Company is named in terms of the Legal Practice Act 28 of 2014. The logo is inspired by the direct English translation of the firm Principal's surname, Nkuku (chicken) which, as a symbolic creature, is characterized by attributes of zeal, growth and providence.

Being a Responsible Company

Nkuku and Company understands the importance of building a great, enduring company that strikes a balance between profitability and a social conscience.

This is why the firm is at the heart of reestablishing the local community sports club. Since 94 year' old Pinetown Rugby Club went defunct in 2015, a void for some 144 000+ citizens of the eThekweni Metropolitan Municipality's city emerged, with plans in place to revive and no leadership will to act since 2017. Nkuku and Company, having long standing links with Pinetown Rugby Club alumni and the city in general, is poised to take the mantle of sponsoring and administering the organization to revitalize rugby sport and indeed, community involvement for the greater good.

In so doing, the firm hopes to expand on its pool of prospective and referral clients over and above the benefit of being, a party to the social cohesion of an entire community.
